UNIT :- 4

Bussiness letters and reports.

Bussiness letters and reports.

In the Bussiness words, it is not always possible for people to meet and talk with our fellow employees or customers and clients, So, here is the need for letter arises for the purpose of Communication. letter form the most important form of bussiness correspondance professional write various types of bussiness letters in accordance to the occasion or content. These letters helps in keeping the written record in an organisation. It is a formal way of communication.

☆ Forms of Bussiness letters :-

i) Block formate
ii) Modified block formate
iii) Simplified formate

1). Block formate :- Block formate is the popular formate of bussiness letter in India. In the block formate elements like date, address, Salutation, Paragraph and the close all chart from the left hand margin.

2) Modified block format :-
The modified block formate is the mixture of block and indented formate. This formate is actually the same as the full block formate except that date line and closing signature are here placed on the right hand side of the page.

3). Simplified :- The simplified formate is the favourite style for the impersonal situation. Generally it is used for those situations where the identity of the recepients is not known.

*. Structure of a bussiness letter :-
A bussiness letter is an official letter dealing with various subjects. All letters must have the following elements.

1) Heading :- Heading here means the return address (the sender's address) and the address of the recepients. The return address should include the company name, street address, city, state, zipcode and also the telephone

no. It also include the senders information

2). Date :- Date should include the month, Date, and Year clearly. Date can placed towards the right hand margin or with a left hand margin as prescribed by the writter in the basic formate.

3). Inside address :- The inside address should include the addressee's name, the company name, street, state and zip code. The address is the same that appear on the envelope

4). Salutation :- Salutation is views in the block and and modified block letters styles. It is the views for courtous greeting. It is placed two space below the inside address. For example - we write "dear sir" for a man and "dear mam" for a woman.

5). Subject-line :- The Subject must be given as it indicates the topics or purpose of the letter. Subject is placed between the inside address and the salutation.

6). Body:- Body is the main message or organ of a letter. The messag that a letter conveys must be divided in two short paragraphs. Unnecessary repitition should be avoided.

7). Subscription or Complementry closing:- The end must include the courtous words depending upon the tone or nature of letter. For ex:- sincerely, Sincerely yours, cordially, yours truly, yours respectively, yours obediently etc.

8). Superscription:- Superscription or address on the envelope is of great importance in writing a bussiness or an official letter. Full postal address of the addressee should be written neatly and properly on the envelope. So that letter may reach its destination quickly.

✡. Types of Bussiness letters :-

The following are the common type of bussiness letter -

1. Sales letter :- These are the commonly use bussiness letter in this the writer gives information about its products and services so as to increase its sales.

2. Order letters :- Order letters are send by consumers or bussinesses to a manufacturaly retailer, or whole saler to order goods or services. These letters must contains specific information like the model no. Name of the product, the quantity desired and the expected price Payment is sometime Included with the letter.

3. Complaint letter :- The words and tone you choose in a letter regarding complain may be desciding factor on whether your complain is satisfied be direct and always use a professional tone if you want the company to listen your complaint.

4. Adjusment letters :- An adjustment letter is normally sent in response to a claim or complained. If the adjustment is in the favour of customer than the letter will begin with that news. It not keep your tone factual and left the Costumer know that you understand the complain.

5. Inquiry letter :- Inquiry letter are used for asking a questions from the recipient when composing this type of letter keep it clear that what exactly you need. Be sure to include your contact information so, that it is easy for the receiver to respond.

6. Follow up letter :- Follow up letters are generally sent by the bussinessman in order to get feedback for the product or the service.
For example :- Sales department writes a letter to its costumer for thanking him for the order or thanking him for using their product, etc. These letters are a combination of thankyou note and a sales letter.

7. Letters of recommendation :- Prospective employers often ask job applicant for letters of recommendation before they hire them. This type of letter is usually from a previous employer for describing the sender and the receiver's relations.

8) Acknowledgement letters :- These are the simple receive that a bussiness sends to let know others that they have receive a prior comm., but action or may not have taken place.

9). Cover letter :- Cover letters usually accompany a package, report or others. They are used to describe what is enclosed, what is being send and what the receiver should do with it.

10) Letters of resignation :- When an employee plan to leave his job, then he writes a resignation to his immediate manager giving him notice and letting him know when the last day of employement will be. Employee also gives the reasons for leaving the company in detail.